B. Jan. 1611, was descended of an antient[ancient] and Noble Family in Rutlandshire, being a great grandson to Sir James Harrington, of whom it is observed by the Historian of that county, that there were sprung in his time 8 Dukes, 3 Marquises, 70 Earls, 27 Viscounts, and 36 Barons; of which number 16 were Knights of the Garter; to confirm which account we shall annex a copy of the Inscription on his Monument of that of his 3 sons at Exton, with Notes on the fame by an uncertain hand. As for our Author he is as the eldest son of Sir Sapcote's Harrington, and Jane the daughter of Sir William Samuel of Upton in Northhamptonshire. His Father had children besides him, William a Merchant in London, Elizabeth marryd to Sir Ralph Ashton in Lancashire, Baronet; Ann marryd to Arthur Evelyn, Esq. And by a second wife he had John, Kill'd at Sea; Edward, a Captain in the Army, yet living;

Frances marryd to John Bagshaw of Culworth in Northamptonshire, Esq. and Dorothy, marryd to Allan Bellingham of Levens in Westmorland, Esq. This Lady is still alive, and when she understood my Design, was pleased to put me in possession of all the remaining letters and other Manuscript Papers of her Brother with the collections and observations relating to him, made by his other sister the Lady Ashton, a Woman of very extraordinary Parts and Accomplishments. These, with the account given of him by Anthony Wood in the second Volume of his Athenae Oxonienses, and whet I could learn from the Mouths of his surviving acquaintance, are the Materials whereof I compos'd this ensuing History of his Life.

Elder Son of Henry Warner of Besthorpe, Norfolk. Wife Mary, d. John Blenerhesset. No surviving issue. and was succeeded in his estate by his younger brother, Sir Robert Warner. He is buried in Plumstreet Church at the upper end of the church, where there is a monumental inscription to his memory.

Sir Edward 1st comes into notice as Lieutenant of the Tower of London. Removed 28 July 1553 by Queen Mary.

p. 15      Sir Edward Warner lieutenant of the Tower certainly covered a period of great historic interest.

The issue of Henry, the eldest son of John, having died out in the male line, the succession passes to his younger brother Robert, who as is stated by Morant, went into Suffolk and became the ancestor of the several houses of ye Warners now subsisting in Suffolk.

Reader's Queries

Austin, Robert, (See Genealogy) born in England, (Kent?) in 1630, and was, in 1661, one of the grantees of Westerly and Kingstown, Rhode Island. Also any other of the first Austin Families to reach New England in the 1600's.

C. Chesebrough, William, born 1594 (See Genealogy), near Boston, Lincolnshire. Married at St. Botolph Church, Dec. 15, 1620 to Anna Stevenson, daughter of Peter Stevenson; came to New England with 3 of his 8 children on ship "Arbella".

Harrington, John, arrived at Boston, Massachusetts in 1630. Was drowned leaving widow and two young sons, the oldest, Benjamin, who went to live with an uncle and became a refugee to Rhode Island.

Warner, Andrew (See Genealogy) was a son of John and his father was John. The Warners came from Great Waltham or "Much Waltham" Essex County, England, between Chelmsford and Dunmow.

“Sir Thomas Warner”

Chapter V., p. 89 The family history of this period might be written almost entirely from its Monumental inscriptions alone. The parish churches of Parham and Cratfield in Suffolk, and the churches of St. Andrew Undershaft Bank (corner Leadenhall Sto, St. Mary, Axe) and St. Andrews Holborn, in London contain monumental inscriptions extending from 1617 to the most recent times.

p. 97 Parish Church of St. Andrew Undershaft, London, on the wall of the south aisle is a monument to Edward Warner, Merchant of London, d. 28 Oct. 1628.
